

Great Ocean Voyages Transatlantic Passage to Spain

Celebrity Equinox ★ April 15-29, 2016

Transatlantic Passage to Spain: 14 nights from Ft. Lauderdale to Barcelona aboard the Celebrity Equinox. Enjoy Week One aboard ship with the relaxed pace of a transatlantic crossing PLUS an exclusive educational enrichment program. During Week Two, explore six classic regions of Spain and Portugal. Fares start at just $1,425 for an inside cabin, or $1,695 for a balcony (per person, double occupancy.) Bonus: Book an outside cabin or balcony by October 9, 2016 and receive a $150 shipboard credit per cabin. With one-way return airfares from Spain to the USA starting under $500, this is a great travel value.

Sailing on Celebrity Equinox

Your home at sea is Celebrity Equinox, with the features you'd expect from a top-rated cruise ship. Enjoy lounges and coffee bars, a unique sky observation deck, daily entertainment, recreational programs and superb dining venues. After the transatlantic crossing, you'll visit several of Spain and Portugal's most culturally rich regions. Join optional shore excursions offered by Celebrity, or explore on your own. Walk the streets of historic Lisbon and Alicante, and join all-day excursions to Seville and Granada, home of the great Alhambra. Upon disembarking in Barcelona you can return home, continue your European journey on your own, or join other members of your group for a four night extension in Barcelona and Madrid.

Your Great Ocean Voyage Enrichment Program

During the eight days at sea you'll enjoy an exclusive enrichment program, just for members of your group. You'll quickly become part of a community at sea, sharing your travel experience with new friends. There will be daily social activities, including several cocktail parties, along with interactive seminars on two themes selected just for this voyage: (1) Transatlantic Travel From 1492-2016, exploring the history of Atlantic travel since the time of Columbus; and (2) Iberian History and Culture, introducing the culture and history of the regions of Spain and Portugal that you'll be visiting. The seminars will be led by your Voyage Director, Dr. George Brown, a former university professor who has more than 35 years' experience organizing and leading educational travel programs. Experts from the ship's staff will give special presentations on Spanish wine and cuisine. Another highlight of the enrichment program is a session on navigating a modern cruise ship, led by one of the ship's officers.

Itinerary

April 15: Depart Ft. Lauderdale at 5:00 pm
April 16-21: Six days at sea
April 22: Ponta Delgada, Azores, Portugal
April 23-24: Two days at sea
April 25: Lisbon, Portugal
April 26: Cadiz, Spain (port for Seville)
April 27: Malaga, Spain (port for Granada)
April 28: Alicante, Spain
April 29: Barcelona, Spain

A New Travel Tradition

Transatlantic Passage to Spain is the first in a new series of travel programs for lifelong learners entitled Great Ocean Voyages. The leisurely pace of an ocean crossing and the exclusive enrichment program ensure that the members of each Great Ocean Voyage have an enjoyable and educational experience. Participants also become part of a traveling community, enjoying one another's company while establishing friendships that can last for years to come.

For more information on this or future Voyages contact George Brown: george@GTBtravel.com 404-583-7730